

SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY
NATIONAL SECURITY STUDIES/MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

The National Security Management Program is offered as a two week course at Syracuse University, Syracuse, New York. This program prepares senior military and civilian leaders for demanding assignments and challenges within a continuously evolving national security and strategy environment.

Who Should Attend

Specifically designed for senior military and civilian officials at the O-6/GM-15. Enrollment for non DoD participants is limited to the following: National security executives from other Federal agencies and departments, Defense Industry Executives, Members of the National Guard, Congressional staffers, and Media print or broadcast journalists covering defense-related issues.

Program Highlights

- Examine current issues that impact national security;
- Explore the national security decision-making process;
- Consider the fundamental framework of national security policy and strategy; and
- Discuss the range of external factors that will affect the national security management agenda.

Offerings: Two week session, once annually

Contact: Sue Virgil, Senior Administrator
National Security Studies
Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs
219 Maxwell Hall
Syracuse University, NY 13244-1090
Fax: 315-443-1685
E-mail: smvirgil@maxwell.syr.edu
Web site: www.nss.edu

Telephone: 315-443-9920

Program Dates: April 22 – May 4, 2012

Cost: $9,000 - 2012

Includes: tuition, books, use of computer labs, athletic and research facilities, special events, lodging, and meals.

Application Deadline: Two months prior to program start