

National Aeronautics and Space Administration
Goddard Space Flight Center
Greenbelt, MD 20771

Reply to Attn of: 110

Dear New Employee,

Welcome to NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center. I'm delighted that you are joining us and will be adding your own set of unique skills and abilities to a Center that has a legacy of accomplishment and success. Goddard has made many extraordinary and fundamental discoveries, and continues to be at the forefront of scientific inquiry and innovation. Our past is a prologue to the incredible future that lies ahead.

Our mission and your challenge will be to answer important science questions, develop new technologies and apply state of the art engineering solutions to solve the problems of tomorrow. Each and every position here is critical in fulfilling the mission of our Center. The knowledge we build today will benefit our communities, our nation, and our world for many years to come. You will help define the future of this Center and I'm confident that over the course of your career here, you will make a lasting contribution to the success of our mission.

Again, welcome to Goddard. You have joined a terrific team!

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Rob Strain". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long, sweeping tail on the final letter.

Rob Strain
Director